

Life Renal Dialysis
Support for acute
and chronic renal
dialysis patients

/ We specialise in optimising your kidney function

Life Renal Dialysis, provides kidney care to patients who have been diagnosed with acute or chronic kidney failure through:

Out-of-hospital treatment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Chronic haemodialysis: this treatment uses a dialysis machine to remove waste products, excess salt and fluids from the blood of patients diagnosed with chronic kidney disease. ■ (PD) Peritoneal dialysis is available at selected units
In-hospital treatments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Acute haemodialysis (administered to patients diagnosed with acute kidney disease). ■ Slow continuous therapy or CRRT (continuous renal replacement therapy / haemodialysis which is usually administered to critically ill patients for up to 24 hours a day, and for extended periods of time). ■ Plasmapheresis (a blood purification procedure used to treat several autoimmune diseases, also known as plasma exchange).
Home based treatments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ CAPD (Continuous ambulatory peritoneal dialysis, a process in which a bag of dialysis fluid is drained into the peritoneal cavity through a special catheter. The fluid is left inside the body for some time to absorb excess salt and waste products and is then drained out). ■ APD (Automated peritoneal dialysis is similar to CAPD, however the exchanges occur whilst you sleep and with the help of a 'cyclor' machine).
